PRESIDENT'S

MESSAGE

People are always wondering if they are getting their money's worth when they make a purchase. T. N. A. membership is certainly no exception. Let's take a look at what you are getting for your $4.00 annual dues:

1. You receive the monthly publication, TNA News, rated as the best monthly club publication in the field of numismatics. I have received many such publications and believe me we rank second to none.

2. T. N. A. maintains a library that you may borrow books from anytime. Slides on coin subjects may be borrowed for club programs. Both are yours for the asking and a little postage. The slide program is continually being added to.

3. You as a member have the opportunity to compete, at the annual convention for exhibit awards that are certainly the best money can buy.

4. You have the right to attend the many social functions and business meetings at the annual convention.

5. An opportunity to meet and correspond with fellow members and collectors from all over the State and Nation.

6. An opportunity to express your views on numismatics through the monthly publication, TNA News. You are urged to use its pages to share your knowledge of numismatics.

7. T. N. A. has Achievement Awards and Appreciation Certificates ready to be mailed to your local club for its member of the month. A service that we have, but is seldom used. Ask your president if he is taking advantage of this service.

You have the opportunity to hold an office in a state organization that is truly on the "GROW."

Every endeavor is being made to make this even a better organization and with your help and support this can be accomplished. The more we have contributing to the aid of numismatics the better off we will be in the future. If we don't continually promote numismatics, who will you sell to, and buy from, if we don't continue to bring in new collectors? So the next time you hear some member say they are not getting their money's worth from T.N.A., ask them what they have contributed to their state association??

Those of you that have not received your membership roster, please write Mrs. Folda. The revised edition of the Constitution and By-Laws is on the press and should be in your hands in the very near future.

We still have a few T.N.A. medals left over from the convention. If you need one or several let me know. These medals would make nice attendance prizes for your club meetings. They sell for $2.00 each, in Proof-Like cupro-nickel, and have

THE VANISHING BUFFALO

Buffalo Hunting Happy Sideline
For The Serious Coin Collector

By Miriam Gilmore
Weslaco, Texas

The Buffalo nickel found in circulation today with a clear date or any date at all is becoming nearly as extinct as the buffalo itself on the Western plains. This five-cent piece, also referred to as the Indian or Bison nickel, was minted from 1913 to 1938, a period of 25 years before it was replaced with our present-day Jefferson nickel.

The theme expressed by linking the Indian and Buffalo on a coin makes it truly symbolic of our America. James Earle Fraser, famous sculptor, designed the buffalo nickel employing for the obverse, three different models to cast a portrait of the proud Indian with high cheekbones, broad nose, feathered hair piece, and braids — so characteristic of America's first citizen.

Designer Frazer used as a model for the reverse, the famous Black Diamond, a buffalo housed at the New York Zoological Gardens, and whose parents had been part of the Barnum & Bailey Circus. Black Diamond was about 20 years old when he "posed" for the five-cent piece. The animal was later sold, slaughtered for about 750 pounds of meat and the hide made into an automobile robe for icy winters.

Indian tribes and buffalo herds roamed American soil long before this country was settled by the white man. The buffalo furnished necessary food and clothing for the Indians. As wagon trains, in search of green pastures and blue waters, opened up the trails to the west, the buffalo began disappearing as the pioneers were taking more than their share. After the railroad to the new country was built, buffalo hunting parties were staged to induce people to use the new and faster mode of transportation. During these times, the Indian, realizing his vast open territory, food and clothing were rapidly disappearing, rebelled at the white man. But the story of the Red Man versus the White Man is another chapter in American history.

The buffalo nickel has never been a popular item among collectors as they are too difficult to pull out of circulation with resemblance of a date; and by purchasing the coins, a complete set would be out of reach for the average collector — price wise. A commercial product was introduced a few years ago whereby a drop placed where the date was supposed to be, would bring it out. The collecting of this type nickel was revived for a time by filling in with "restored" dates.

The buffalo nickel series is quite interesting to study even though one does not collect them. In 1913, first year of issue, there were two distinct varieties — buffalo standing on a mound of earth and later in the year found him on level ground. The reason for the change was that the nickel was wearing down rapidly due to the high relief. So for the first year of issue, one must have six to start the set — two of each of 1913PDS (Philadelphia, Denver and San Francisco Mints.)

In 1918, at the Denver mint, the previous year's die was used so we find an overdate — 1918 over 17; and if you have been lucky enough to find one for your set, you have a valuable coin.

A well known variety of the buffalo nickel is the three-legged; an animal with only three legs. This happened at the Denver mint during the year 1937 when the die, according to Don Taxay in his book "Counterfeit, Mistake & Unofficial U. S. Coins," was "... ground down to remove injuries sustained during its clash with obverse die." The right front leg of the animal is missing (the hoof is there) and if you have been fortunate to find the coin or perhaps been given the chance to purchase one, do be careful as many of the 1937D nickels have been altered by removing the leg (sometimes the wrong leg) with a pocket knife or other sharp object. These have been known to have been sold to unsuspecting collectors; so know your coin or take it to a reliable dealer and he will be most cooperative to authenticate it for you.

The 1938D over S variety created some excitement a few years ago. It has never been clearly established how the variety came about or how many were released with the super-imposed mint mark; but do check your '38D buffalo nickels — you may have that variety to complete your set.

In the meantime, Happy Buffalo Hunting!

KURT PROBER - MR. NUMISMATIST OF BRAZIL

By C. H. Roberts
Corpus Christi, Texas

Senhor Kurt Prober of Rio de Janeiro, Brazil is internationally known as a writer and coin dealer and countless collectors from all over the world call upon him for information. As the TNA News has and will carry articles on the coinage and currency of Brazil, we thought it appropriate to call upon Senhor Prober for a little background — truly named "Mr. Numismatist of Brazil."

Since May 1, 1945 Senhor Prober has held Life Membership No. 95 in the American Numismatic Association. His numismatic library consists of 1,400 books and includes all issues of The Numismatist since 1935. He has a personal collection of approximately 10,000 pieces of universal coin types of all metals. Some of them are complete on Central and South America but only as type sets.

Prober has written 11 books on numismatic subjects. In addition to these works, our Brazilian friend has produced more than 40 pamphlets and reports upon other numismatic matters. The Numismatist reviewed only two of his publications. More of these might have had greater review coverage in the United States had they been written in English. His books are now out of print except for "Catalog of Brazilian Coins." Though not his most important book, Prober considers it his most complete work about Brazilian coins.

His most challenging and best works were "The Numismatic History of Guatemala," and "The Numismatic History of the Dominican Republic." The first was translated FREE OF ANY CHARGE by the Bank of Guatemala. The bank forgot to send him 50 books promised but they did send him ten. On the other hand, Trmillo — of his own free will — decided to cite Prober with the ORDEM DE CRISTOBAL COLON that carried with it the degree of officer whereas the Guatemalan government forgot to say thanks.

Prober says that three Americans copied both books in part for the U.S. market. They produced three books about the coinage of these countries, using his personal drawings without even the courtesy of asking his permission or sending him a free copy of their publication.

The distinguished Brazilian numismatist has been a dealer for 30 years. He is disgusted about the way counterfeits are appearing on the market. High taxes are making it difficult for dealers to operate profitably. Brazil, with a market of 1,500 collectors,

THE 1968 TEXAS TRIPLE COMMEMORATIVE MEDALS

Obverse A

Common Reverse

Obverse B

There have been so many requests for proofs of these beautiful medals that a limited issue will be struck in silver on a pre-paid subscription basis.

The Mint advises that due to technical production requirements the sterling silver proofs will not be fully frosted (see ad, August TNA NEWS). Anyone who wishes to withdraw his order for this reason and receive a refund, should notify 10TH CONVENTION MEDALS immediately. Each set will consist of two .999 fine silver proof medals, 39 mm in diameter, approximately twice as thick as the regular cupro-nickel issue.

Each set is priced at $25 plus $1 Insurance and Postage. Each order must be accompanied by a money order or certified bank check for the total amount, and must be postmarked before October 1, 1968. ONLY THE TOTAL NUMBER ORDERED WILL BE STRUCK, thus assuring the rarity of these beautiful pieces.

We now have a new issue of cupro-nickel, golden bronze and rose-gold bronze available at the same wholesale prices as before plus postage. These all are distinguished by reeded edges. We also have a few rare "mules" in two obverses at $2.50 each wholesale.

Currently available are several sets of PROGRESSIVE DIE TRIAL PROOF SETS IN LEAD. These consist of a total of 23 pieces each (9 Alamo, 7 Garza & 7 San Antonio) and are exactly similar to the set recently presented to San Antonio's Witte Museum, and which received national publicity. This is a "Once in a Lifetime Opportunity" to acquire an extreme rarity. We have been unable to find any recorded instance of similar trial sets ever before being offered for sale. The first $75 money orders received will acquire these sets with shipping charges prepaid.

FUTURE OF SILVER COINS - DREAMS OF PREMIUMS?

Submitted By:
Brad Mills, Columnist
Dallas Morning News

Will the common coins of today be of considerable premium value in 20 years? This question not only keeps popping up; it is pressed so hard by so many collectors that it has become almost an irritant in some quarters.

The several million numismatists and beginners who seek the answer are largely well-intentioned persons who are lost for the moment in their own collecting habits, and obviously they are looking for leads that may get them back on the road to a form of security and pride in ownership.

The best answer to this question will be found in a study of the very common circulated coins of 20 years ago. Actually those minted in the 1940's carry very little premium value, except in the case of the smaller and unusual issue.

It is doubtful whether the large issues of 1957-1967 will enhance in value rapidly enough to offset the six per cent carrying charges that must be considered.

All strictly uncirculated coins minted between 1940 and 1950 now carry substantial premiums, but they were issued in much smaller quantities than those minted between 1957 and 1967. The number put aside during the earlier period also was much less than that during the most current period.

Thus the saving of most recent coins appears applicable only to the uncirculated issues, and then chiefly in limited quantities. Many collectors have great hoards of silver coins minted between 1957 and 1964, with the thought and hope that bullion prices will give them a profit in less than five years.

This involves a possibility discussed in this column many times, but the hoarder should always remember that the very large silver issues prior to 1965 must be regarded mostly as bullion, not as coins.

A bird's nest on the ground is hard to find, but the average coin collector is not above looking for one. He constantly searches avenues that would permit putting away easily acquired coins at near face value, always with the thought that they may be scarce in the future.

Such a plan was possible to carry out prior to 1950, but the chances are against it now. Those accumulators who are now hoarding Kennedy half dollars dated after 1964, and many other recent issues, may be in for a surprise. The issues are too large and the bullion value too low to assure much enhancement.

The best bet for a real collector seems to involve the acquisition of worthwhile coins of age and stature — those that have already broken away from the commonplace and taken their place in the sun.

Topical coins have become very popular with collectors who wish to specialize in some phase of numismatics that tells a story from the beginning without the necessity for the completeness required in the more elaborate fields.

Many of these specialized collectors become very excited over a run of coins showing animals, flowers, birds, reigning monarchs, plants, etc., and they go to great lengths to find suitable items.

Other limited and specialized fields of interest include the "period" collectors who seem to favor short his-tical epochs of an exciting nature. These may follow territorial, colonial, transitional or revolutionary struggles, but others tend toward the golden eras of history.

In some of these fields it is possible to complete a period collection, while in others many of the coins once in circulation are extremely rare or non-collectible.

In United States coinage it is possible to select several interesting periods, and nearly all have their scarce or rare coins. In 1873, 18 coins of all metals were struck, and many collectors have elected to make a whole "period" of this single year. At least two of the denominations were minted only in proof condition, a rather mysterious development that makes for extreme difficulty in acquiring the 1873 year set.

NEWS ROUNDUP — A.N.A.

Another A.N.A. Convention with all its color, coin and activity has become history as you read this. Many members will be making reports to their local clubs or districts, many will be "showing off" their newly acquired "goodies," while others will just be relishing the memories of fun and fellowship in the company of other coin hobby enthusiasts. If you missed the 77th A.N.A. convention start saving and planning for next year's 78th.

From the total 54 letters sent out by Mrs. Mather and myself as A.N.A. district representatives to member clubs requesting their opinion of the A.N.A. board action concerning elections we received 17 answers. In addition to this we have received answers from a number of individuals.

At the time this copy is being written, which necessarily is prior to the San Diego meeting of the A.N.A. board, we have no way of knowing what action will have been taken by the board. However, we do wish to say "Thank you" to those who responded and assure them that their opinions will have been made known to the board for its consideration. To those who did not respond we wish to say that we are sorry. If any A.N.A. member club did not receive our letter it can only be because that club is not listed in the new club directory or the address given is not correct. A third possibility is, of course, that Uncle Sam's post office department "goofed" somehow.

A recent release from A.N.A. headquarters Library advises that another reprint from The Numismatist titled New York World's Fair Medals, 1939-1940, by Ernest Weidhaas, is available from the library.

The author points out that almost every one of the 300 items listed could have been obtained by a visitor at the fair, either as gifts from the various exhibitors or by purchase at nominal cost. He adds that although, theoretically, it should be possible to form a complete collection with ease, a number of the most insignificant pieces would present a real challenge to the most ardent collector. The address for placing your order (@ $2.00) is A.N.A., Box 2366, Colorado Springs, Colo. 80901.

"One of our own" will have received the 50-year Gold Membership Medal in San Diego. William A. Philpott, Jr. of Dallas, is one of three who now can look back on 50 years of devoted service to the A.N.A.

"Mr. Phil" entered numismatics through the side door. For over 51 years he was connected with money in his activities with the Texas Bankers Association. Since 1963 he has acted as its consultant. Like his fellow Texans, Phil does everything in a BIG way.

He joined the A.N.A. in May, 1918, with membership number 1978. Customarily he began collecting U.S. coins, all metals, all series. Completing all varieties of coins except some of the great rarities, his interest lagged, and B. Max Mehl sold his coins at auction in 1946. Since 1930 he has been an ardent student and collector of U.S. paper currency.

In 1929 he was elected to the A.N.A. board of governors and was reelected to this position for a total of 10 consecutive years, an all-time record. Also, he has served as chairman of the A.N.A.'s finance and auditing committee for more than 20 years.

"Mr. Phil" began writing articles for The Numismatist in 1929, mostly about paper money, a subject on which he is an authority. To the present day he continues to contribute monographs. He has attended every A.N.A. convention from 1929 to date with the exception of the 1964 Cleveland convention, and he has won numerous awards as an exhibitor as well as a writer. He received the 25-year Continuous Membership medal in 1949 and the Medal of Merit in 1965. When he presented B. Max Mehl his 50-year Gold medal in 1953, he commented that he was looking forward to the day he received his in 1963. That day has arrived!!

I am sure I voice the sentiments of many when I say, "Congratulations, Mr. Phil," from one of your admirers!

If a man deceives me once, shame on him; if he deceives me twice, shame on me.

used to provide the coin dealers with a net profit of five to ten per cent on numismatic gold items (or one to two per cent if handled as exchange items) with a maximum to 20% on other metals. Two years ago legislation went into effect that required the dealer to pay taxes of 20% on all coins sold. Exchange rates are a deterrent to the importation of coins while exportation of them is illegal. The Brazilian coin market is beset with both problems and troubles.

The VIP (Very Important People) contest will be conducted again this year from May 1, 1968 through May 1, 1969.

This award will be presented to the winner at the Governors' and Club Representatives' breakfast to be held during the T.N.A. convention in 1969 at Fort Worth.

The competition is open to all T. N. A. members. The award is given to the member who signs up the most members for T.N.A. during the announced dates.

Points this year will be awarded in the following manner:

10 points for individual or club life membership.

5 points for new individual or club membership, including juniors.

1 point for associate membership.

The VIP Award for 1967-68 was won by Tom Bain of Dallas; runner up was Troy Coan of Amarillo, governor, Dist. 11; and President Bill Brothers and TNA News editor Miriam Gilmore tied for third place.

Let's get busy and sign up those new members for T.N.A.

Many Thanks, NCS

Texas Numismatic Association and convention officials are deeply grateful for the splendid cooperation extended by the National Commemorative Society, known to many also as the Franklin Mint.

In addition to displaying their fabulous collection of Platinum Proof-Medals at the recent San Antonio convention of T. N. A., this firm also picked up the total charges for air freight and insurance, both ways between Philadelphia and San Antonio, according to Frank O'Sullivan, convention chairman.

Many thank yous.

Postal rates go up — service goes down! We had an unfortunate thing to happen recently and we wish to apologize to members of the Amarillo Coin Club on behalf of the United States Post Office.

On July 2 we mailed a slide set for the club's July 9 meeting. It arrived July 11, two days after the meeting — taking 10 days to be shipped from Weslaco to Amarillo. We try to mail sets early enough in the month so that the proper projector, etc. can be obtained and other arrangements can be made by the club. We will have to "up" the days of mailing, so most of you will have a set around

In June, 10 sets were shipped; July, seven; and as of August 5, eight sets were mailed. Clubs using sets in August were Waco, Amarillo, Pampa, Sherman, Victoria, Galveston, Wichita Falls and Graham. We hope they arrived on time. One book was borrowed also.

Members of the Hidalgo Coin Club of McAllen and Miriam and Wally Gilmore jointly donated a 20-slide set "Representation of the H a p s b u r g Family" to the T. N. A. Memorial Library.

J. G. Pfluger
Governor

At the July meeting, Ellis Brooks reported on T. N. A. convention activities and Bill Brothers, T. N. A. president, spoke on the aims of the organization and the success of the convention. Members went on record opposing the change in election rules set out by A. N. A.; and voted to leave whatever money they had coming from the T. N. A. building fund in the T. N. A. treasury.

Bill Lee provided the program by showing slides of Crowns and Minor Commemorative Coins of the Western Hemisphere furnished by the T. N. A. Memorial Library. Lee was presented an A. N. A. Educational Certificate for presenting the June program.

Special exhibits were shown by Brooks, J. B. Erwin, Dave Pollock, Ralph Goble and Mickey Ryan.

At the August 1 meeting, with 37 present, members decided to issue a newsletter and if found to be successful, to continue with it. Brooks, Lynn Langston and club President, Fred Clark were to work up the material for the first issue.

worth $1.25 an ounce although then selling for only 65c an ounce, minted coins or tokens of an ounce of silver which he sold for and redeemed at $1.25. The Treasury Department confiscated Leshner's dies for that 1900 issue. Leshner then issued a smaller, octagonal coin, with four-fifths of an ounce silver, at $1.00 in 1901. Out of 700 issued, Leshner was asked to redeem only three tokens. The silver token shown by Neil carries a Zerbe rarity 5.

Charlotte Nichols displayed Xerox copies of an 1888 coin book and two cases of early American coins.

The club unanimously nominated for T. N. A. officers in 1969: Bill Brothers, president; Roger Earwood, first vice president; Lyman Bartee, second vice president; Augusta Folda, secretary; Stanford M. Kennedy, treasurer; and Charles H. Babcock, governor, Dist. 6. — John Crosbie, Corr.

Bebee purchased this "Fabulous Coin" with a $46,000 auction bid at the 1967 A. N. A. convention in Florida.

the first meeting in August by members of Liberty Coin Club of Corpus Christi.

At the July 23 meeting, with 37 present, Mrs. C. H. Roberts presented a program on the reign of Peter II of Brazil and showed coins of that period. She compared his benevolent rule to that of his cousin, Maximilian, who was emperor of Mexico. She had mementoes of Brazil to show and presided over a question and answer period that drew the entire club into the discussion of this interesting period of history.

Four guests and 37 members attended the July 8 meeting of Corpus Christi Coin Club at Gateway National Bank. A new mailing address for the club was announced — Box 3025, Zip, 78401.

During the July 22 business session, the club voted to concur in the recent decision of the A. N. A. Board on changing election procedure on the grounds that Board members would be better acquainted with the qualifications for office of those among their number than the rank and file of the members would be with candidates for the top office of the organization. Four guests were among the 37 present.

Glenn MacDonald used some coins of his collection and slides of others to illustrate his talk on "Ancient Coins, Chiefly of Rome." He explained that the first coins were simply chunks of metal without markings. The Romans called their coins "aureum." He gave the various value equivalents of coins. Several of the some 50 mints of the Roman empire were represented among the coins shown. Eagles were shown but said to be infrequent on ancient coins.

15 YEARS SERVICE — Members of Corpus Christi Coin Club presented Mr. and Mrs. Lamar Folda a silver tray and inscribed plaque on the occasion of their retirement after 15 years of dedicated service to the club as secretary and treasurer. Sam Bassons, outgoing president, made the presentation.

Cuba Collections

In The Cuban Numismatist, official publication of The Star & Key Club dedicated to Cuban numismatics, it was stated:

"It is no secret that, of the three best collections formerly in Cuba, one is covered by diplomatic immunity, and the other two were successfully spirited out of the country. Two specimens of the extremely rare 1916 $20 gold piece, are known to still be in Cuba but the other eight or so are outside the now grisly island."

Services were held Wednesday, July 31 in Harlingen for Mrs. Edna Eubank, 51, who died at home in Brownsville after a lengthy illness.

Mrs. Eubank, T. N. A. LM26, was well known in national numismatic circles and specialized as a dealer in Mexican coins. She was active in Valley coin clubs until illness kept down her activities.

She was a native of Leander, Texas and moved to Brownsville in 1921.

Survivors are the husband, B. G. Eubank of Brownsville; a son, B. G., Jr. of Houston, her mother, Mrs. Lela Wilson, Harlingen; five sisters and three grandchildren.

Burial was in Combes, Texas with Rev. Harry Smith, pastor of Brownsville Lutheran Church, officiating.

This is a service which is needed desperately, due to the deluge of counterfeit coins which is coming into this country daily. Ask any A.N.A. official, any P.N.G. official, or O.L.N. director!

Maximilian Society Meets In San Antonio

Pat L. Pace of Brownsville was guest speaker at a meeting of the Texas Chapter of Maximilian Numismatic Society which was held in conjunction with the June convention of Texas Numismatic Assn. taking place in San Antonio.

Pace displayed rare Maximilian patterns and discussed the numismatic features of all of the coinage of that era. Sixteen attended the special meeting and program.

Richard A. Long of Corpus Christi discussed banknotes under Maximilian which was the first paper money ever issued in Mexico. However, he pointed out, Maximilian's government was not responsible for its issue. The Bank of London, Mexico and South America issued its first bills in 1865 and others were issued in 1866 and 1867. The bills of this bank that are in existence today are very scarce, Long stated. Some are unknown while others are unique. Complete information on the bills can be obtained from Long's article "Bancos of Federal District Introduced." It appears in World Coins of January, 1967.

The relationship of Maximilian and Peter II of Brazil was discussed by Mrs. C. H. Roberts of Corpus Christi, relating that they were first cousins and Francis I of Austria was their grandfather. They were contemporaries and both had good intentions to help their countries. Yet both reigns ended in tragedies. Maximilian was executed in his country while Pedro was exiled from his, Mrs. Roberts said.

Mrs. Norma Mather, also of Corpus Christi, displayed a copy of an 1864 Harper's Weekly article about Maximilian. It included an illustration of the Emperor and predicted difficulties for his reign in the years ahead.

Others participating in the program and displaying items were Ralph Watters, Taft, Maximilian Diarios; George A. Mather, Corpus Christi, 1867 silver peso; and Ivan L. Martin, Corpus Christi, type set of Maximilian coins.

Program chairman for the meeting was Sam Bassous of Corpus Christi. C. H. Roberts is president of the Texas Chapter and Don Bailey is president of the National Society. Other participating members are Joe B. Davis and Lamar Folda, both of Corpus Christi.

Addis Ababa is the capital of Ethiopia and the main language spoken is Amharic. In that country 100 cents (Natonas) equals 1 Talari (Dollar.)

Certificates backed by silver dollars were first authorized in 1878. The large-size notes were made in denominations from $1 to $1000 at different times.
